

You've never stayed with us (like this) before.

It's not just a new guest room – it's a new experience. It's a room that anticipates your needs, that senses your next move. It knows when you want to be pampered, when you want to put your feet up and when you want to get down to business. Its design sensibilities exude a freshness that can lift a mood. At the same time, it offers welcoming warmth. You could say it's feng chic...a holistic approach to travel. And the difference is day and night.

By design, it seeks to rejuvenate. Clean lines and airy, light-infused space are the central themes that take you to that place. An uplifting colour palette and abstract artwork complement the layout. And with thoughtful touches at every turn, you just might think it's the room that has thought of everything.
